

The Swellest

Brown suits in the world are made by Rogers, Peet & Co. of New York, the recognized fashion center of America. Our chief competitors admit in their advertisement that the stylish clothing comes from New York—that Chicago is fully six months behind New York in the matter of styles in men's suits and overcoats. Yet that same house advertises and sells for at least three of its leading brands Chicago makes, at prices ranging from $20 to $60, and claim to be selling them way under the price at a legitimate store or at a tailor shop. Some retail clothiers have pipe dreams.

TIGHT LID IN OMAHA.

Even the Delivery of Sunday Papers Will Be Prohibited.

Omaha, Nov. 1.—If the Omaha police are unable to enforce Mayor Dahlman's sweeping Sunday closing order, they are to be aided by the county officers. Mayor Dahlman says that he is determined to give the people of Omaha all the Sunday closing within his power and he has issued orders to his chief of police accordingly.

Chief Donahue sent a letter to Captain Mastyn, chief of detectives, instructing him to see to it that the mayor's edict is obeyed, and that the letter as well as the spirit of the law be strictly enforced. Chief Donahue puts the ban on drug stores, except for the filling of prescriptions, grocery stores, meat markets, bakeries, news stands, shooting galleries, picture galleries, hotels—so far as sales of cigars and newspapers is concerned—billiard halls, candy stores, bowling alleys, barber shops, baseball games, pawnshops, tailor shops, garages, the delivery of newspapers, newsboys, golf, tennis and other similar outdoor amusements.

A test of the Sunday law, as it pertains to theaters, has been made, and the supreme court has decided in favor of the theaters. The mayor, however, expects to make another test of the law. The theaters will ignore the order. The order is not effective until December 10, and business men who have been in the habit of keeping their places open on the Sabbath will thus have an opportunity to adjust their affairs.

"We have come to that stage of our political affairs," said the mayor, "where the office holder is indeed a servant of the people. In the last week I have been served with orders from two classes of citizens demanding Sunday closing. I have simply taken steps for a strict enforcement of the law which will give the citizens a chance to know what a closed town is. If they like it they will continue the system and if not I suppose they will have an open town."
